PR Community Center and via Zoom (call-in info below)

6 – 7pm: Town Hall on Broadband Access in Point Roberts

Broadband access is critical for all aspects of peoples' lives. Currently, Point Roberts (PR) ranks 163rd on the list of most well connected communities in Washington state, with average download speeds 88% slower than the statewide average. PRCAC, in conjunction with the County Executive's office, has been actively supporting efforts to roll out high-speed broadband in PR, for example via the installation of fiber-based connectivity to businesses and households. However, this is a slow process that can take years to cover all of PR. Consequently, the County Executive has been considering additional options to accelerate rollout of broadband in PR. In this special Town Hall, Bob Hillman, founder and CEO of Point Networks, shall present his plans for an alternative type of broadband service in PR and answer your questions. At the end, we will do a brief survey to assess the community's interest in such an offering. This will inform the County Executive's decision on whether to help accelerate rollout of such a service. Please attend in-person or virtually and make your voice heard - Executive Sidhu plans to call in.
