

Joint Proclamation

WHEREAS, administrative professionals, including secretaries, administrative assistants, executive assistants, office managers and other administrative support staff, make up one of the largest segments of the world's workforce; and

WHEREAS, International Association of Administrative Professionals (IAAP) is the acknowledged leader in assigning office professionals with personal and professional growth, and the Bellingham chapter is committed to office professionals in our local community through education, programs and networking; and

WHEREAS, in April, IAAP and other members of our community will celebrate the substantial contributions of these dedicated members of our business community; and

WHEREAS, the IAAP Bellingham Chapter chose the theme "Communications – Improving Your Working Relationships" for this year; and

WHEREAS, this year marks the 62nd anniversary of Administrative Professionals Week, formerly known as National Secretaries Week, which was founded in 1952 to recognize the contributions of office support staff in business and government and to attract people to secretarial careers; and

WHEREAS, the week of April 20 through April 26 has been designated Administrative Professionals' Week by International Association of Administrative Professionals, its founder and sponsor;

NOW, THEREFORE, DO WE, Kelli Linville, Mayor of the City of Bellingham, and Jack Louws, Whatcom County Executive, proclaim the week of April 20 through 26, 2014 to be in the City of Bellingham and Whatcom County, and ask that management in our community join in recognizing these outstanding professionals in their employ.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROFESSIONALS' WEEK

Signed this 15th day of April 2014.

A blue ink signature of Kelli Linville, Mayor of the City of Bellingham, written over a horizontal line.

Kelli Linville, Mayor
City of Bellingham

A blue ink signature of Jack Louws, County Executive of Whatcom County, written over a horizontal line.

Jack Louws, County Executive
Whatcom County

