Whatcom County Veteran’s Website Launched

BELLINGHAM—A new “Whatcom County Veteran Community” website launched this week. The goal of the website is to provide a one-stop online resource where veterans can connect through community events and learn about veteran-specific resources. You can explore the new site at: <https://wp.wvu.edu/whatcomveterans/>.

The website idea came directly from Whatcom veterans. Earlier this year, veterans completed a survey and attended a veteran’s summit along with their families, community agencies providing services to veterans, and other interested community members. Findings from these activities made it clear that improved connection, communication, and information is needed throughout the veteran community.

The new website is a partnership of Whatcom County’s Veterans Program administered through Whatcom County Health Department and Western Washington University’s Veterans Services Program.

If the public has questions or comments on the new website, please contact Liz Harmon-Craig, Veteran’s Specialist for Whatcom County Health Department. Your improvement suggestions are welcomed.
