1. This is a very short segment at a freeway ramp, for which County roadway segment V/C calculation methods are not well-suited because the segment mainly reflects ramp intersection operations. When the forecasted volume for this segment is averaged with the adjacent roadway segment volume, the V/C does not exceed the County's threshold. Therefore, no roadway segment deficiency is identified at this location

1. This is a very short segment at a freeway ramp, for which County roadway segment V/C calculation methods are not well-suited because the segment mainly reflects ramp intersection operations. When the forecasted volume for this segment is averaged with the adjacent roadway segment volume, the V/C does not exceed the County's threshold. Therefore, no roadway segment deficiency is identified at this location

1. This is a very short segment at a freeway ramp, for which County roadway segment V/C calculation methods are not well-suited because the segment mainly reflects ramp intersection operations. When the forecasted volume for this segment is averaged with the adjacent roadway segment volume, the V/C does not exceed the County's threshold. Therefore, no roadway segment deficiency is identified at this location

1. This is a very short segment at a freeway ramp, for which County roadway segment V/C calculation methods are not well-suited because the segment mainly reflects ramp intersection operations. When the forecasted volume for this segment is averaged with the adjacent roadway segment volume, the V/C does not exceed the County's threshold. Therefore, no roadway segment deficiency is identified at this location

1. This is a very short segment at a freeway ramp, for which County roadway segment V/C calculation methods are not well-suited because the segment mainly reflects ramp intersection operations. When the forecasted volume for this segment is averaged with the adjacent roadway segment volume, the V/C does not exceed the County's threshold. Therefore, no roadway segment deficiency is identified at this location
